DATE - August 21st, 2017
VENUE - M.O.P. Vaishnav College For Women

PROGRAM OBJECTIVE

- Brainstorming ideas and concepts for the visual and words with other members of the creative team.
- Teach the students to familiarise themselves with the product, target audience and competitor activities in the market.
- Help students create copies for ads and teach them how to use minimum words and convey the message to potential customers.

M. O. P. VAISHNAV COLLEGE FOR WOMEN (AUTONOMOUS)
Chennai - 600 034, India.

PROGRAM BRIEF

The speaker spoke elaborately about the role of copywriters in an organization and what exactly they do- Copywriters are responsible for generating the words, slogans and audio scripts that accompany advertising visuals. They work alongside art directors to conceive and complete effective advertisements. Advertising ideas, which typically contain an integrated verbal and visual concept, require both the ability to make an imaginative leap and an intuitive understanding of the public the advert is aimed at. Copywriters must understand the client's brief; the concept determines the style and character of the ad. Copywriters must be able to write at length and paraphrase highly technical subjects. Advertising copy involves constant detailed revision and rewriting either at the request of the client or to tune up the communication.

PROGRAM OUTCOMES

- Students learnt the different ways to write copies depending on the circumstances and the kind of media.
- Write tailor made copies for different segments of the market.
- Students understood the steps involved in copywriting right from the ideation stage till the end of its life cycle.
- Students took part in the workshop and learnt how to create content based on a few cues given by the resources person.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

- To guide the students through the various business opportunities available
- To educate the students about the advantages and challenges during the process of starting a business.
- To communicate the importance of finance and other related factors while building a startup.
- To discuss the various ways in which a brand can mitigate the losses which it might face during its life cycle

PROGRAM BRIEF

The lecture was kick started with a spritely interaction with the students about the different start-ups they know of or if anyone is running a small business. The speaker threw light upon topics like the various avenues available to “Wanna be entrepreneurs”, advantages and disadvantages of such startups, technology available to exploit for such startup, how it helps to create more jobs and lastly spoke about the various competitors in the sector to give them more assertion on product differentiation.

PROGRAM OUTCOMES

- Students understood the steps involved in building a startup right from the ideation stage till the end of its life cycle.
- Students became aware about the creative ways that can be adopted by a startup in its social media channels and how to nurture the relationship between the customers and the brand.
- Students realized the importance of constantly monitoring the business environment, adapting to the changes, being relevant and flexible so as to ensure long term brand success.

On
July 7, 2017
(FRIDAY)

Objective of the Programme:

Discuss global strategy of business, industry trends and MBA recruitment opportunities directly with the people who make decisions in the organization. Each student will get one opportunity to interact with a CxO/ senior personnel from an industry of their preference.

Programme Brief:

Breakfast with CEO was envisaged by Dr. Lalitha Balakrishnan, Principal of M.O.P.Vaishnav College for Women as an opportunity for the students of the MBA Department to interact with the top management from the business world. It is conducted as an informal event with a select group of students. The first session of the series was with Mrs.Jeyasree Ravi, Founder of Sri Palam Silks on 7th July, 2017. The event had an informal setting that provided the speaker the atmosphere to share her personal experiences during her entrepreneurial journey. Her insights into branding and building a business were beyond the scope of textbooks. The students got real food for thought as she urged them not to compromise on their aspirations and manage their multiple identities.

Programme Outcomes:

- Students were able to understand the transformation of Indian banking scenario and the role of micro finance in woman entrepreneurship.
- Shone light on the implementation of the 3 P's – Patience, Passion, and Perseverance for success in career.

Resource Person Profile:

Dr S Narasimhan began the lecture with a Sanskrit sloka and after a brief introduction on Sanskrit grammar, explained a few simple concepts constituting it. Beginning from the basics, he taught the alphabets and its various types, words, nouns, verbs, indeclinables and their forms and numericals. The session was fun and interactive with students being urged to give answers for simple questions put forth by the lecturer. The session concluded with another small riddle in Sanskrit which showcased the use of various indeclinables (अव्ययानि)

Dr V Ramakrishnan began the lecture with a sloka by the poet Bana, in which the poet's prowess over Sanskrit was observed by the fact that ten words worth of Sanskrit were put together to form one word. He then spoke about his famous work Kadambari and the various devices used by Bana in it. He explained qualities and characteristics explicit to the poet and quoted from several of his famous works like Harshacharitham. The session was enrapturing as Kadambari is a beautiful piece of work. It was also relevant to the year's syllabus.

S.NO	Date	Title of the Guest Lecture	Resource Person (Name, Designation & Org Name)	Total number of students who attended the session
6	08.09.2017	Bhasanatakachakram	Dr. Sampath Kumar Asst. Professor DG Vaishnav College	40

In this guest lecture, the students were first introduced to the idea of literature and its benefits. This was followed by the history of drama and the most preferred type of rupakam. Having received the requisite background information, the students were transported into the world of Bhasa's 13 plays. This was the most prominent part of the address. The detailed coverage of this topic included the history of Bhasanatakachakram and Bhasa's authorship style. Drama is an important part of Sanskrit literature and this lecture helped students be able to understand and elucidate on the same.

Dr G Suresh conducted a lecture demonstration on ten out of the hundred Alankaras present in the vast and rich grammar of Sanskrit. After a brief introduction of the same, he spoke of the various types of Alankaras. Alankaras are figures of speech used to add meaning and beauty to prose and poetry. The lecturer proceeded to explain each type in an elaborative manner with the help of a sloka. He spoke in detail about the usage of each of the ten types using different day-to-day examples. The session ended with an interactive session where students put forth their doubts and he answered them. This was very helpful for the students as they were also learning about the use of Alankaras as a part of their curriculum.
