#WHY25 CAMPAIGN, YOUNG INDIA FOUNDATION

Objective of the Programme:

- To make students aware of the minimum age to become a MP and MLA.
- To help understand the need to lower the age of candidacy of MPs and MLAs.

Programme Brief:

Ms. Padma and Mr. Praveen addressed the students on the importance of the #Why25 campaign and lower the age for candidacy of MPs and MLAs. The session also provided insights on how as young citizens, the students can help bring about a change in the age for candidacy through various means like PIL, grassroot level campaigns etc.

Programme Outcomes:

- The session provided the students with a different perspective on how a higher age of candidacy of MPs and MLAs cannot be backed by any consistent reasoning.
- It also helped students understand the need for including young minds into the Parliament and State Legislative Assemblies.

Resource Person Profile:

Ms. Padma and Mr. Praveen work with Young India Foundation. Young India Foundation aims to empower the youth by raising awareness on youth rights within India.

FINANCIAL REPORTING: INDIA'S TRANSITION INTO IND AS AND IGAAP

BY
MS. CHARULATHA D
Proprietor, Charulatha & Co

SEPTEMBER 20, 2019

Objectives of the programme:

- To highlight the need to understand the dynamics of Financial Reporting in recent times.
- To give a deep insight into the provisions of AS and iGAAP.

Programme brief:

Students were taught about the need for the IND AS as it focuses on different aspects of accounting. They learnt how the balance sheet as per the new format is prepared and how the income statement appears in the books of accounts. The session included a powerpoint presentation which showed how the investors and stakeholders analyse the financial report and on what basis they take a concise decision of investment. At the end of the class the students were given a problem and were asked to draft the balance sheet.

Programme outcome:

At the end of the guest lecture -

- Students were able to understand the rationale behind the emergence of financial reporting as an 'independent field of study'.
- Their urge to gain in depth knowledge in IND AS was kindled.

Objective of the Programme:

The program aimed to

- Introduce students to the novel field of Behavioural economics
- Impart knowledge about human decision making behaviour and the role of Psychology in shaping socio economic phenomena.
- Provide a scientific basis for behavioural economics by substantiating it with laboratory studies
- Promote integration of multiple disciplines such as psychology, social sciences, neuroscience and cognitive science

Programme Brief:

The program was organized to introduce students to new realms of Psychology and its widespread application and scope. It involved experts engaged in arduous research in the upcoming field of Behavioural Economics. Ms. Krithika Rajagopalan in her presentation, introduced students to the merger between economics and psychology, touching upon the workings of Classical and Behavioural economics. A distinction was drawn between decision making based on logic and rational thinking, as opposed to irrational consumer behaviour fuelled by personal biases. The concepts of 'nudging' and 'framing' embedded in Psychology's operant conditioning theories were highlighted. Also, various subjective biases experienced by consumers which renders them vulnerable to economic fluctuations and decision makings were discussed. Mr. Adrien Pawlik in his presentation focused on career opportunities in Behavioural Economics that spreads to wide reaching arenas of behavioural finance, marketing, academic and policy research and in Behaviour developmental laboratories. The session also portrayed the applications of Behavioural economics in policy and decision making of federal bodies of the Indian government. It exposed students to internship opportunities as field surveyors in different sectors. The discussion answered questions on scope of Behavioural economics in the near future, game theories, applications of economic theories in real life and behavioural experiments to name a few.

Programme Outcomes:

Participants were able to

- Analyse the effects of psychological, cognitive, emotional, cultural and social factors on the economic decisions of individuals and institutions
- Improve reliability and precision in explaining human behaviour in the new economic realm.
- Understand the applications of Behavioural economics in investment, health care, decisions on finance and education
- Get sensitised to newer career prospects and Scope for higher education.

4.	24.01.2020	The Wonders of the Wanderer - The Vagus Nerve in Health and Disease.	Dr. Jim Deuchars, Professor of Neuroscience, Faculty of Biological sciences, University of Leeds, UK	153

Objective of the Programme:

The program aimed to

- Introduce students to the workings of the vagus nerve
- Sensitise them to contemporary research into the role of Vagus nerve in the treatment of Epilepsy, Depression, Heart failure and Paralysis.
- Promote integration of Psychology and Biological sciences

Programme Brief:

The program was organized to introduce students to new realms of neuroscience and its widespread application and scope. Professor Jim Deuchars, a seasoned academician and researcher introduced students to modern ideas on the role of vagus nerve. His lecture covered controversies on over the counter cough medication and unconventional techniques for treatment of coughs. Irritants of the vagal nerve in the esophagus and the role of Theobromine (an active ingredient chocolate) was discussed. Students were involved through sing-alongs and live demonstration using Transcutaneous Electrical nerve stimulation device and Electroencephalograph. Present day research into the effects of vagal nerve stimulation on high frequency heart rate, sleep, anger, tension, and confusion was also discussed.

Programme Outcomes:

Participants were able to:

- Understand the varied roles of vagus nerve in promoting well-being
- Cultivate the spirit of inquiry through discussion on modern research
- Get acquainted with prospects for higher education in biological sciences

Resource Person Profile:
