Gender Intelligence is a fact that neuroscience has proved - a man's brain and a Woman's brain are built differently. One should understand this and leverage this information while conducting business.

Self-esteem is one of the most important qualities to possess to succeed in the corporate world as well as in one's personal life. To build your self-esteem, it is essential to self-praise, set goals, up skill, and understand your self-worth. By doing so, you become your own brand and your authentic self. This will lead you to success.

Finally, she reiterated that it is crucial to accept that you cannot be perfect at everything while doing multiple things at the same time. So do not fall prey to the perfection trap.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION AT WORK PLACE

Dr. Lavanya Kannairam
Regional Talent Acquisition Manager, Caterpillar
Topic-Diversity and Inclusion at work place

Program Objective: To give the students an understanding about the need for reskilling and upskilling in changing times.

Program Description: Dr. Lavanya Kannairam has over 14 years of experience in the automobile and heavy industries. She is an MBA graduate from Karpagam Vinayaga College. She is a strong advocate of integrity, openness and honesty and aims to influence and diversify culture. She is a fast learner, resilient and never gives up.

Program Outcome: The students were made to understand the importance of skill and knowledge development for better employability.

No of Participants: 73 students

Level of the Program: Institutional

Diversity does not just conform to gender but also to various cultural backgrounds. Dr. Kannairam says, diversity and inclusion lead to the success of an organization. Not to mention, an organization represents and reflects the community.

She introduced the concept of 'Blind Profiles' where in, the candidates name and gender are not revealed to the recruiter. This ensures an unbiased recruitment process. When asked how the organization ensures the safety of people from diverse backgrounds, she said it is essential for an individual to be firm that they will not be ridiculed. Organizations need to make them feel accepted and valued.

She concluded by emphasizing the importance of communication at any point in time, especially when changes are being introduced in the organization

Programme Brief:

Basics of combinatorics was clearly explained with relevant illustrations and applications in daily life.

Programme Outcomes:

- Student's will be able to
- Explore research aspect of Mathematics and use experimentation to arrive at solutions to problems of Combinatorial Geometry.
- Apply the core mathematical concepts with continuous process of introspection and questioning of the basic ideologies during research.

Resource Person Profile:

Dr. Priyavrat Deshpande is currently an Assistant Professor at CMI. He completed his PhD in 2011 in Mathematics from University of Western Ontario, Canada. Then he spent a year at Northeastern University in Boston followed by three years as a post-doctorate here at CMI. He is one of the placement coordinators at CMI and also a local coordinator for the Madhava Mathematics Competition. His area of expertise in mathematics include Algebraic topology and Combinatorics.

A guest lecture was conducted on the intriguing topic “Combinatorics” on 4th November 2020. The talk titled “How to cut an Uttappam to get the desired number of pieces?”, was delivered by Dr. Priyavrat Deshpande, Assistant Professor, Chennai Mathematical Institute. Dr. Deshpande focused on exploring the research aspect of Mathematics, using experimentation to arrive at solutions to problems in Combinatorial Geometry. The thought provoking lecture ended on a high note, with active participation from the students.

NEGATION OF A PROPOSITION:
The negation of a proposition p is It is not the case that p , denoted by $\sim p$. (Read as the negation of p or simply not p).

- p : Chennai is the capital of Tamilnadu
- $\sim p$: It is not the case that Chennai is the capital of Tamilnadu. (or simply, Chennai is NOT the capital of Tamilnadu).

Principle of Double Negation: $\sim (\sim p) = p$.

During the academic year 2021-2022, the Post Graduate Department of Human Resource Management invited eminent speakers from the industry who have enhanced their organizations' effectiveness at a strategic level to deliberate on topics of interest, to bridge the gap between academia and Industry.

LEADER'S ROLE IN ENHANCING EMPLOYEE EXPERIENCE AND RETURN ON TALENT

Ms. Misha Joshi

Sales Director, Microsoft Consulting Services

Topic-Leader's Role in Enhancing Employee Experience and Return on Talent

Program Objective: To give the students an understanding about the need for reskilling and upskilling in changing times.

Program Description: Misha Joshi is the Sales Director at Microsoft Consulting Services and is a seasoned business leader with experience in various fields of management. She has worked extensively in heavily meshed and matrixed organizations and excels in managing and influencing stakeholder relationships. An active member of Women in Technology forums, she also strongly believes in leveraging diversity of thought, gender, and demography at the workplace.

Program Outcome: The students were made to understand the importance of skill and knowledge development for better employability.

No of Participants: 73 students

Level of the Program: Institutional

Ms. Joshi says, automation in talent acquisition in terms of digitalization of records, sourcing tools etc, helps the HR to focus on employee experience rather than documentation and paperwork.

She believes that providing a good employee experience can also help achieve return on talent. This can be enhanced by taking into consideration a few factors such as:

1. Reducing cognitive load by ensuring that employees have the time to focus on tasks crucial to their job rather than attend meetings that is not necessary for them.
2. Make 'Day in the Life' simpler by ensuring things are done right the first time so one does not waste valuable time in correcting it.
3. Don't overburden employees with surveys. Instead striking a causal conversation with employees and building relationships would help HR understand the problems of the employees and can get valuable feedback that.

Contrary to popular opinion that digitalization leads to unemployment, Ms. Joshi says that it in fact provides more employment opportunities. There are various positions one can upskill themselves towards such as – Service Design Thinker, Content Curator, eBusiness Manager, Data Protection Officer, Web Integrator, Digital Marketing Professionals etc.

She concluded by reiterating that hybrid workspaces are here to stay. Employees will continue to burn out and we as HR need to help them simplify their life. Tell them clearly what the rules are and what to expect and it is upon the HRD to make a seismic shift in simplifying, digitalizing, and elevating the user journey, across the employee life cycle.

LEADER'S ROLE IN BALANCING STAKEHOLDER'S INTEREST

Ms. Lakshmy Shankar
Director, Kaizen Consult

Topic-Leader's Role in Balancing Stakeholder's Interest

Program Objective: To give the students an understanding about the need for reskilling and upskilling in changing times.

Program Description:Ms. Lakshmy Shankar is the CEO and founder of Kaizen Consult which was set up in 2002 as a Recruitment firm to meet the surging demand for staffing by the BPO sector. She is also the National President Diversity and Inclusion of Women's Indian Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

Program Outcome: The students were made to understand the importance of skill and knowledge development for better employability.

No of Participants: 76 students

Level of the Program: Institutional

Ms. Shankar believes that a leader is someone who has the power to influence people. It is important to use one's leadership skills and powers to achieve the greater good.

She says it is important to identify who are your stakeholders at a certain situation. As a leader, it is important to take initiative and always think out of the box. It is not uncommon to find yourself in a conflicting scenario wherein the decision you take as HR will impact some stakeholders negatively and at the same time have a positive impact on others. At such times, it is vital to mitigate the conflicts within a given situation to ensure that overall, the collateral damage to the stakeholders is minimum.

Ms. Shankar took an example of a possible POSH case where the assumed victims are two young ladies and the guilty are men at positions of power. At such a point in time, as HR one of the first steps you are expected to take is to one up emotionally and psychologically on both presumed victim and the guilty. Both the parties have to calm down so that everyone can take decisions rationally.

When asked, how can a fresh graduate handle such a situation especially when the claim is made against someone who is position of power and the stakes are high, she said it is important to have a high emotional intelligence and an even higher adversity quotient so that you are not over ridden by the situation. It is crucial to have crisis management skills.

Lastly, she mentioned, the key to providing psychological safety is to work together. Ms. Shankar quoted "If you want to run fast, run alone but if you want to run far, run together".
