B.Sc. MATHEMATICS

Programme type: Symposium Mathematics-Abstract
Cognizance

Programme Title: Automata Theory: Relevance &
Applications

Date: 18.01.2017

Name & Designation of Chief Guest:
Dr. K. Thirusangu, Associate Professor,
Department of Mathematics, SIVET College

Total number of participants: 300

Total number of participating institutions: 15

Level: National

Collaborating Institution: (If Any)- Nil

Venue: M.O.P Vaishnav College for Women

M.O.P. Vaishnav College for Women
(Autonomous)
No. 20, IV Lane, Mungambakkam High Road
Chennai-600 034

Time	Session	Session Title	Resource Person (Name, Designation & Org Name)
10 am – 11.15 am	Technical Session	Automata Theory: Relevance & Applications	Dr. K. Thirusangu, Associate Professor, Department of Mathematics SIVET College.

Objective of the Programme:

To provide a brief introduction on automata theory, its different types and motivate the students to pursue higher studies/research in Automata Theory.

Programme Brief with session details and schedule:

The session provided an insight into the concepts of automata theory and its usage in text processing, compilers, hardware design and artificial intelligence.

Programme Outcomes:

Student's will be able to

Describe and analyse the dynamic behaviour of discrete systems.

Recognize how machines solve problems and apply finite automata and regular languages to construct algorithms for related problems.

Time	Session	Session Title	Resource Person (Name, Designation & Org Name)
11.30 – 12.30 am	Technical Session	Group Theory: Properties & Implications	Dr. A.V. Jayanthan, Associate Professor Department of Mathematics IIT Madras

Objective of the Programme:

To introduce the abstract concepts of Group Theory, Group operations and their applications.

Programme Brief with session details and schedule:

Basics of group theory, their operations, its representation in common phenomena, symmetries and recent progress in study of groups has been discussed.

Programme Outcomes:

Students will be able to

Apply the key aspects of group theory, their operations and manipulate permutations.

Use techniques and theorems of group theory to analyse the structure of finite groups and to deduce information about the structure of a group

Time	Session	Session Title	Resource Person (Name, Designation & Org Name)
1.00 pm – 2.00 pm	Technical Session	A Number- Theoretic Network Based Encryption Techniques	Dr. Baskar Babujee, Associate Professor Department of Mathematics Anna University Guindy, Chennai-25

Objective of the Programme:

To provide an understanding on encryption techniques and tools in number theory that are used in cryptography for security.

Programme Brief with session details and schedule:

Importance and Application of number theory in the process of encrypting or encoding data or messages transmitted over a computer network and design of cryptographic algorithm was briefed.

Programme Outcomes:

Student's will be able to

Explore and apply the encryption techniques that are based on Number theoretic Networks in relevant fields.

Implement number theory tools in writing programs for cryptographic algorithms.

WORKSHOP
ON

The Face in the Crowd

MS. DEEPA UMESH
CREATIVE HEAD
SPORTS MECHANICS INDIA PRIVATE LIMITED

Tuesday, September 20, 2016
9 a.m - 10 a.m
Venue: Meghdoot

We look forward to seeing you there!

Objectives of the Programme:

- To help students stand out in the crowd with creativity and innovation
- To give students an insight on being confident and expressing their view in a creative way.

Programme Brief:

The programme started with a brief presentation on the concept of being the unique individual in any group and the basics of expressing ideas with a creative approach. The speaker presented few visual examples and shared her experience on being the new face in the crowd. Then it was followed by an interactive session where the students raised many questions on the ways of having individualistic ideas. The speaker clarified all questions with appropriate examples.

Programme Outcomes:

- The students were benefited by the professional insights shared by the resource person on the nuances of being the standing face in a crowd, to be unusual in a good way and get your point across in a creative and innovative manner.
- Students were able to openly speak their mind and express their views.

Film Production Process

V.C.RAVI
CEO CINETIMES

23rd to 28th November 2016
10:00 a.m. onwards
Venue: Seminar Hall

We look forward to seeing you there!

Objectives of the Programme:

- Students will gain an in-depth understanding about the television industry.
- It will help in gaining knowledge about the roles and responsibilities of a Producer in the television industry.

Programme Brief:

The programme started with a brief introduction of the speaker and his achievements. The speaker went ahead and did a visual presentation about what the television production process is. There was a fun interactive session after this where students were asked to team up and explain what each step meant to them. This helped everyone gain a basic understanding about the programme on their own. This was followed by a session where students asked questions. The speaker clarified the queries with suitable examples.

Programme Outcomes:

- The students learnt about the different stages of the television production process. A fun activity was also conducted to understand the students point of view and their understanding about the topic.
- Students were able to identify the current trends in the television production process.

Resource Person Profile:

V. C Ravi is the CEO of Cine Times. He has been the Producer of many successful productions like Metti Oil, Munthaaanai Mudichu, Sakthi etc which were broadcasted in Sun Network.

SHARADA VIJAY
&
NANDHITHA HARIHARAN

Wednesday, March 15, 2017
10 a.m. onwards
Venue: Drawing Studio

We look forward to seeing you there!

Objectives of the Programme:

- To inform students to know what exactly they get into in the online platform and the appropriate usage of social media.
- To understand responsible digital citizenship in taking part in the online community safely.

Programme Brief:

The programme started with a brief introduction on social media platforms in this age and the importance of its usage in an appropriate fashion. The session then went on with a detailed explanation about responsibility towards posting on social media platforms. This was followed by an interactive session where the students raised many questions on social media management and rules of posting the right information to the right crowd and being socially responsible and careful before posting anything. The speaker clarified all questions with appropriate examples.

Programme Outcomes:

- Students learnt about using Social Media with responsibility.
- Students understood the safety precautions to be followed while using Social Media.

Resource Person Profile:

Ms.Sharada Vijay and Ms.Nanditha Hariharan are freelance digital marketing strategists in Chennai. They have been running campaigns in Social Media Platforms on ethical and responsible use of social media. They have also been part of many awareness programmes for teenage School students and College students on the safe use of social media.

Programme Brief with session details and schedule:

The purpose of the workshop is to educate people on autism and give them live examples of parents with autistic kids and how they take care of their children. The workshop is also to clear doubts and questions of participants.

Time	Session	Session Title	Resource Person (Name, Designation & Org Name)
9.00 am to 9.30 am	Inauguration		Prayer Song
9.30am to 1:00pm	Technical Session	Autism	Mr. Kishore Kumar Bhat, Mr. Gautham Das, Ms S Shyamala, Ms Geeta Srikanth and Mr Narayanan

Profile:

Ms. Geeta Srikanth: She is Director of We Can, an initiative to build a better community for the autism kids. We CAN was started in the year 2001 by a group of parents; professionals and concerned individuals who felt a need for an organization that would cater to the unique needs of those with autism. We CAN has been founded on the belief that you can teach a child with autism anything if it is taught to him in the way he learns. At We CAN, each child's programme is individually designed to cater to his specific needs and is implemented on a one-on-one basis. Here, they broadly follow the principles of Verbal Behavior Analysis which primarily works on positive reinforcement and the motivation of the child.

Ms S Shyamala: She is a special Educator at School from Thiruvallur district, Tamil Nadu. She has been a special instructor for the last 17 years. Completing her M.Sc in Psychology from the University of Madras, she has also completed her B.Ed in Special Education from The Tamil Nadu Open University. She says that serving the children with autism disabilities has always left her to work more for that community.

Mr. Narayanan: He is the CEO of Avaz Inc., a company that creates assistive technology products to empower children and their caregivers. He loves building technology products that solve a real-world problem and also impacts people's lives positively. His companies products - Avaz, FreeSpeech and MDA Avaz Reader are focused on enabling children to communicate and learn better. After completing his Masters in Computer Science from Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta, he has worked with Meetup.com in New York and chose to return to India to work on building and scaling assistive technology products at Avaz Inc. along with a wonderful team.

Programme Brief with session details and schedule:

M.O.P. Vaishnav College for Women in association with Chennai Literary Association organized an inter-collegiate workshop on Critical Thinking on 10 January, 2017. Dr. Sujatha Priyadarshini, the resource person from Anna University addressed the audience.

Students from various colleges from all over Chennai attended the workshop. The workshop began with Dr. Sujatha posing riddles and puzzle games to the audience. They were encouraged to think outside the box and answer the questions. This was followed by a game where students were asked to think of unique ways to survive in a desert, with limited resources. Various answers were put forward by each team and other teams were urged to find loopholes. Students found that problem-solving wasn't the only prerequisite to playing the game, but also critically analyzing the proposed solutions by other teams. Dr. Sujatha also covered the importance of elementary thinking, and avoiding overanalyzing an issue. Students were exposed to questions which enticed complex answers from them, but quickly learnt that the answers were obvious, and extremely simple.

The workshop was an interesting take on critically viewing every situation posed to a student, and analyzing every issue before making an informed decision.

Programme type: Seminar

Programme Title: Women who changed the face of France

Date: 29.09.2016

Name & Designation of Chief Guest : Ms. Ramya Sundar, Assistant Professor, Department of French, University of Madras

Total number of participants: 59

Total number of participating institutions: 10

Level:Regional

Collaborating Institution: (If Any)

Venue: Meghdoot

Objective of the Programme:

- To advocate gender equality
- To support the emancipation of women around the world by fighting sexual violence and fighting for equality in the workplace and girls' education

Programme Brief with session details and schedule:

This seminar, with the topic 'Women who changed the face of France' was held on the 29th of September 2016 by Ms. Ramya Sundar, Assistant Professor, Department of French, University of Madras. It made the students understand that they should work relentlessly to ensure the situation of women is better taken into account in conflicts, to respond to the specific threats they face, and also to protect and ensure their participation in consolidating peace.

Time	Session	Session Title	Resource Person (Name, Designation & Org Name)
2.00 pm to 2.30 am	Inauguration	Women who changed the face of France	Ms. Ramya Sundar, Assistant Professor, Department of French, University of Madras
2.30 pm to 4:00 pm	Technical Session

Programme Outcomes:

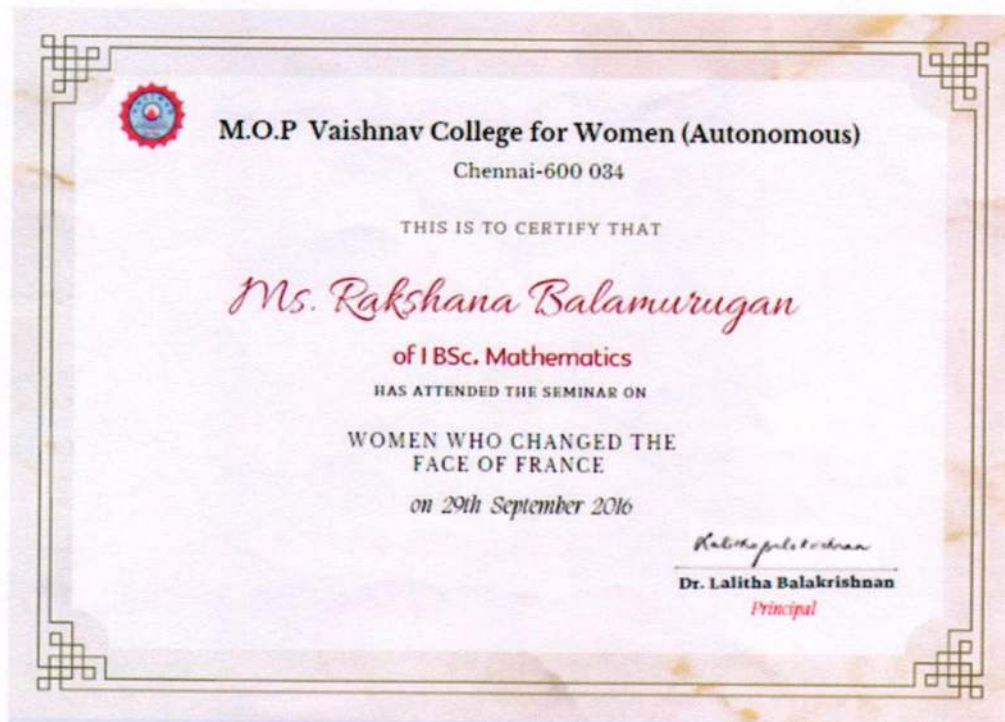

- Recognize the ways feminist theory invites us to understand gender, human behaviour, and oppression in a new light, with a reflection on how these factors operate in the one's own life.
- Engage in critical self-reflection, promoting self-awareness.

The Resource Person was Ms. Ramya Sundar who is working as Assistant Professor in French. She stressed on engaging in critical self-reflection and promoting self-awareness. Also, to work relentlessly to ensure the situation of women is better taken into account in conflicts: to respond to the specific threats they face, but also to protect and ensure their participation in consolidating peace.
